

Training

The CIEP offers your employees, drivers, supervisors, and managers essential training in a variety of areas, including:

- Seat belt use
- Sharing the road
- Rules of the road
- Out-of-service criteria
- North American Standard Level I vehicle inspections
- Pre-trip inspections
- Transporting hazardous materials (Shippers/Carriers)
- Hours-of-service regulations (electronic logging devices/log books/time cards)
- Reporting highway emergencies
- Farm labor vehicle requirements
- Compliance with Controlled Substances and Alcohol Testing requirements
- Passenger vehicle inspections
- Human trafficking

Presentations vary from one (1) hour to eight (8) hours. You have the option of receiving the presentations at your facility or another agreed upon location at no charge to you.

If you direct the operation of commercial vehicles, and are concerned about safety and keeping your company informed of the latest laws and regulations, then let us assist you in educating your managers, supervisors, and, most importantly, your drivers.

History

In 1999, the CHP recognized the need for better communication between the commercial industry and the CHP. To that end, CHP staff has been dedicated to act as liaisons between the CHP and the commercial industry. Their primary mission was to provide industry a local commercial contact person and assist with ongoing commercial educational and traffic safety programs. The program has been implemented statewide with Division coordinators and associate instructors.

CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY PATROL

COMMERCIAL INDUSTRY EDUCATION PROGRAM

SAFETY THROUGH EDUCATION

Introduction

Concerned with the increase in commercial vehicle at-fault crashes, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration joined forces to establish the Commercial Industry Education Program (CIEP).

The CIEP was created to help the commercial industry be safe, informed, educated, and in compliance with California laws and regulations.
