A. SENATE BILL 719 – POLICE PURSUIT RESULTS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Introduction

On October 4, 2005, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger signed Senate Bill 719 (Romero and Margett). This law, which went into effect January 1, 2006, requires law enforcement agencies to establish pursuit policies, provide ongoing pursuit training to their officers, and ensure all pursuits are documented and submitted to the California Highway Patrol (CHP) within 30 days. The CHP is required to submit an annual report to the Legislature that includes, but is not limited to:

- the total number of pursuits reported to the CHP during that year;
- the total number of pursuits involving a collision in which an injury or fatality to an uninvolved third party occurred; and,
- the total number of uninvolved third parties who were injured or killed as a result of those collisions.

Statistical Data

The following 2018 data reflects information submitted by CHP field commands and other California law enforcement agencies pursuant to Section 14602.1 of the California Vehicle Code. Federal agencies are not subject to the reporting requirements; thus, the data does not encompass pursuits by federal agencies. The report has been compiled utilizing 2018 data entered into the Department's Pursuit Reporting System as of April 30, 2019.

A total of 9,128 police pursuits were reported to the CHP during 2018. Of these, a total of 2,243 (24.6 percent) pursuits resulted in a collision. Of the reported pursuit collisions:

- 1,466 (65.4 percent) were non-injury, property-damage only collisions;
- 752 (33.5 percent) were injury collisions; and,
- 25 (1.1 percent) were fatal collisions resulting in 36 deaths.

Of the 36 deaths:

- 21 (58.3 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle;
- 7 (19.4 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicle; and,
- 8 (22.2 percent) were an uninvolved third party.
- There were no law enforcement officer fatalities.

Of the 752 injury collisions a total of 1,288 people were injured:

- 551 (42.8 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle;
- 320 (24.8 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicle;
- 330 (25.6 percent) were uninvolved third parties; and,
- 87 (6.8 percent) were law enforcement officers.

The CHP was involved in 2,546 vehicle pursuits in 2018 (including multiagency pursuits). A total of 464 (18.2 percent) of CHP pursuits resulted in a collision. Of the reported collisions:

- 278 (59.9 percent) were non-injury property-damage only collisions;
- 178 (38.4 percent) were injury collisions; and,
- 8 (1.7 percent) were fatal collisions resulting in eight deaths.

Of the eight deaths:

- six (75 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle;
- one (12.5 percent) was a passenger in the pursued vehicle; and,
- one (12.5 percent) was an uninvolved third party.
- There were no CHP officer fatalities.

In the 178 injury collisions, 270 people were injured. Of the injured parties:

- 133 (49.2 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle;
- 68 (25.2 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicle;
- 58 (21.5 percent) were uninvolved third parties; and,
- 11 (4.1 percent) were law enforcement officers.

Statewide, the majority of initiating violations prior to a pursuit involved speeding, stolen vehicles, registration/license plate violations, and failure to obey traffic control devices at an intersection.

Although many pursuits were initiated during traffic stops for infractions, often the suspects captured were charged with serious felony and misdemeanor crimes. In addition to evading arrest, the top four crimes reported as the most serious crime charged upon apprehension were: vehicle theft, driving under the influence, suspended/unlicensed driver, and resisting arrest. In approximately 39 percent of all pursuit related apprehensions in 2018, the most serious charge came from this group of four crimes.

The majority of pursuits terminated quickly, with the largest number of pursuits terminating within the first minute and first mile. Approximately 40.5 percent of all pursuits reported in 2018 came to conclusion within one mile of the origination point. The most common reason for the termination of a pursuit is the suspect voluntarily stopping, which occurred in 22.3 percent of pursuits.

Conclusion

The pursuit data indicates law enforcement apprehended fleeing suspects 59.8 percent of the time, resulting in a variety of criminal charges beyond evading arrest. Regardless of the original observed violation, suspects were charged with a serious crime (felony/misdemeanor) in at least 81.9 percent of all apprehensions. Of the 40.2 percent which successfully evaded arrest, law enforcement chose to voluntarily abort the pursuit approximately 54.1 percent of the time. Traffic collisions occurred in 24.6 percent of pursuits, with 1.1 percent of those collisions resulting in a fatality. In 2018, six pursuits in California resulted in a fatality to an uninvolved third party (.07 percent of the total number of pursuits undertaken).

REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE
SENATE BILL 719
POLICE PURSUITS

Introduction

A vehicle pursuit is defined as an event involving one or more law enforcement officers attempting to apprehend a suspect operating a motor vehicle while the suspect is attempting to avoid arrest by using high speed driving or other evasive tactics, such as driving off a highway, turning suddenly, or driving in a legal manner, but willfully failing to yield to the officer's signal to stop. On October 4, 2005, Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger signed Senate Bill 719 (Romero and Margett, see Annex A.) This law, which went into effect January 1, 2006, requires law enforcement agencies to establish pursuit policies, provide ongoing pursuit training to their officers, and ensure all pursuits are documented and submitted to the California Highway Patrol (CHP) within 30 days. The CHP is required to submit an annual report to the Legislature which includes, but is not limited to: the total number of pursuits reported to the CHP during that year, the total number of pursuits involving a collision in which an injury or fatality to an uninvolved third party occurred, and the total number of uninvolved third parties who were injured or killed as a result of those collisions.

The CHP maintains a Pursuit Reporting System (PRS), which provides the ability to automate pursuit reporting, review, and critique processes. The PRS is comprised of a Web-based front-end application, and a Microsoft SQL database back-end application. The PRS includes information received from allied law enforcement agencies throughout California via the CHP 187A, Allied Agency Pursuit Report. The CHP 187A is submitted via mail, electronic mail, or facsimile to the Data Analysis Unit within the CHP's Support Services Section.

Statistical Data

The following 2018 data reflects information compiled by the CHP and submitted by other California law enforcement agencies pursuant to Section 14602.1 of the California Vehicle Code. Federal agencies are not subject to the reporting requirements; thus, the data does not encompass pursuits by federal agencies. The report has been compiled based on data in the PRS through April 30, 2019, for calendar year 2018.

A five-year trend analysis of pursuits was conducted encompassing calendar years 2014 to 2018, utilizing the data provided in the the 2014 to 2018 legislative reports.

Part I: All California Law Enforcement Agencies

A total of 9,128 police pursuits were reported to the CHP during 2018. Of these, a total of 2,243 (24.6 percent) resulted in a collision. Of the reported collisions, 1,466 (65.4 percent) were property-damage only collisions, 752 (33.5 percent) were injury collisions, and 25 (1.1 percent) were fatal collisions.

2018 Statewide Pursuits

The 25 fatal collisions resulted in a total of 36 total deaths. Twenty-one (58.3 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle, seven (19.4 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicle, and eight (22.2 percent) were uninvolved third parties. There were no law enforcement officer fatalities in 2018.

The 752 injury collisions resulted in 1,288 individuals sustaining injuries. Five hundred fifty-one (42.8 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle, 320 (24.8 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicle, 330 (25.6 percent) were uninvolved third parties, and 87 (6.8 percent) were law enforcement officers.

Statewide, law enforcement agencies initiate enforcement stops for a variety of reasons. In a small number of these enforcement actions, a suspect fails to yield to law enforcement and a vehicle pursuit ensues. The majority of initiating violations prior to a pursuit involve speeding, stolen vehicles, registration/license plate violations, and failing to obey traffic control devices at a controlled intersection. The most serious offense charged upon apprehension after a pursuit varies significantly compared to the initial violation.

The majority of pursuits terminate quickly with the largest number of pursuits terminating within the first minute and first mile of initiation. Approximately 40.5 percent of all pursuits reported in 2018 came to conclusion within one mile of the origination point. The following tables outline the total number of pursuits by length and time.

The termination event of the pursuit is tracked utilizing 11 different termination descriptions. In 2018, law enforcement apprehended fleeing suspects approximately 59.8 percent of the time.

The original violation is the reason for the initial enforcement action. Many pursuits begin as a result of officers taking enforcement action for an infraction such as speeding, which is the most common originating violation. As evident by the various charges upon apprehension, pursuits may ensue because additional criminal activity exists, unknown to the officer at the time of pursuit initiation.

Vehicle theft is the second most common originating violation, and one of seven felony crimes ranked within the top 20 originating violations collected by the PRS database. The other felony offenses within the top 20 originating violations are burglary, assault with a deadly weapon, armed robbery, carjacking, domestic violence, and grand theft. All other violations are misdemeanor or infraction traffic violations. The top four violations of speeding, stolen vehicle, registration/license plate, and red light/stop light, account for approximately 48.6 percent of all pursuits that occurred in 2018.

Although many pursuits are initiated for vehicle code violations, many suspects captured are charged with serious felony and misdemeanor crimes. In addition to evading arrest, the four most common violations charged after the suspect was apprehended were vehicle theft, driving under the influence (DUI), driving with a suspended license or while unlicensed, and resisting arrest. The most serious crime charged came from this category in approximately 39 percent of all apprehensions that occurred in 2018.

Top Charges Upon Apprehension

Crimes Charged	Number	% of Apprehensions	% of Pursuits
Stolen Vehicle	880	16.1	9.6
DUI	685	12.6	7.5
Resisting Arrest	294	5.4	3.2
Suspended/Unlicensed Driver	268	4.9	2.9

In addition to the top four charges upon apprehension previously listed, the following felonies were also noted as the most serious crime charged in pursuits where the suspect was apprehended: assault with a deadly weapon, burglary, felony drug violations, felon in possession of a firearm, armed robbery, carjacking, resisting arrest by force or violence, felony hit and run, attempted murder, child endangerment, and felony DUI. The most serious crime charged came from this category in approximately 16.3 percent of all pursuit-related suspect apprehensions and account for approximately 9.8 percent of all pursuits. The following information represents the one crime identified by the pursuing agency as the most serious crime charged upon apprehension. It should be noted these crimes may have been charged in other pursuits, but not identified as the most serious crime charged. For this reason, there may be a higher incidence of these crimes than represented in this report.

Assault with a Deadly Weapon	189	3.5	2.1

Part II: California Highway Patrol Pursuit Data

The CHP reported involvement in 2,546 vehicle pursuits in 2018 (including multiagency pursuits), which represents 27.9 percent of the pursuits reported. Of these, a total of 464 (18.2 percent) pursuits resulted in a collision. Of the reported collisions, 278 (59.9 percent) were property damage-only collisions, 178 (38.4 percent) were injury collisions, and eight (1.7 percent) were fatal collisions.

The eight fatal collisions, resulted in a total of eight total deaths. Six (75 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicle, one (12.5 percent) was a passenger in the pursued vehicle, and one (12.5 percent) was an uninvolved third party. There were no CHP officer deaths in 2018.

The 178 injury collisions, resulted in 270 individuals sustaining injuries. One hundred thirty-three (49.2 percent) were the drivers of the pursued vehicles, 68 (25.2 percent) were passengers in the pursued vehicles, 58 (21.5 percent) were uninvolved third parties, and 11 (4.1 percent) were law enforcement officers.

The terminating event of the pursuit is tracked utilizing 11 different termination descriptions. In 2018, the CHP apprehended fleeing suspects approximately 51.5 percent of the time.

Nonapprehensions by Event Terminating Pursuit (1,236 Total CHP Involved Nonapprehensions)

- Pursuit aborted by law enforcement, 639 (25.1%)

 ■ Suspect vehicle voluntarily stopped, 5 (0.2%)
- Forcible Stop, 1 (< 0.1%)

The top four most frequent originating violations for CHP involved pursuits are speeding, stolen vehicle, registration/license plate violation, and unsafe lane change. The first three of these violations match the top three most frequent violations from statewide pursuits reported. Due to the nature of the CHP's traffic enforcement efforts on state highways, speeding is over five times more prevalent as an originating violation than the average of the other three violations listed.

Vehicle theft is the third most common originating violation, and the only felony crime ranked within the top ten originating violations for CHP pursuits during 2018. All other violations are misdemeanor or infraction traffic violations. The top four violations account for approximately 57.1 percent of all CHP involved pursuits.

Although many pursuits are initiated for vehicle code violations, many suspects captured are charged with a serious felony or misdemeanor crime. In addition to evading arrest, the four most frequent crimes reported as the most serious charged upon apprehension are: DUI, stolen vehicle, suspended/unlicensed driver, and resisting arrest. The most serious crime charged came from this category in approximately 48.8 percent of all CHP involved pursuit apprehensions that occurred in 2018.

CHP Top Charges Upon Apprehension

Stolen Vehicle	211	16.1	8.3
Suspended/Unlicensed Driver	100	7.6	3.9
Resisting Arrest	67	5.1	2.6

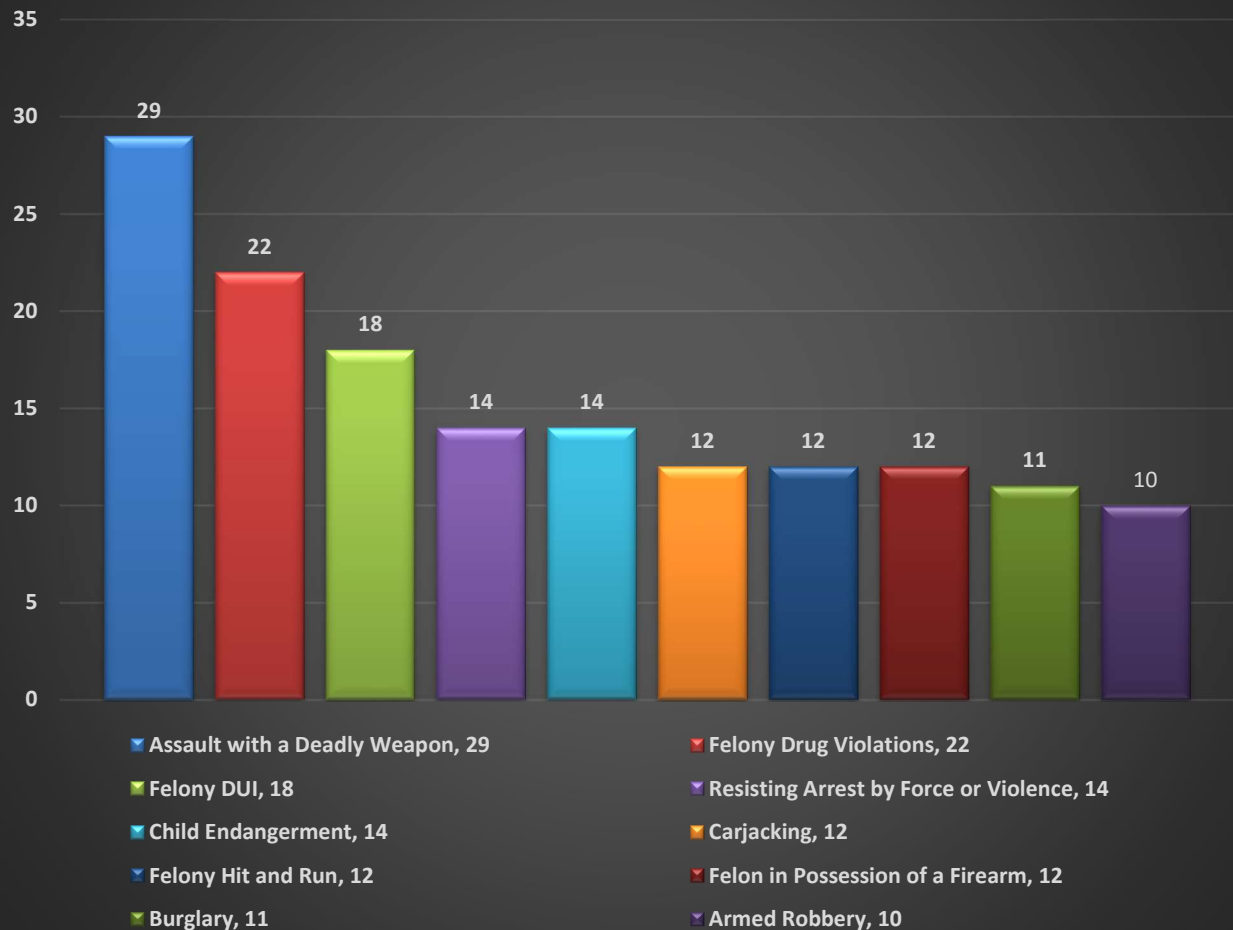

Charges filed upon apprehension also include serious felony crimes such as: assault with a deadly weapon, felony drug violations, felony DUI, felony hit and run, burglary, felon in possession of a firearm, armed robbery, child endangerment, carjacking, and resisting arrest by force or violence. In 11.7 percent of all CHP involved pursuit related suspect apprehensions, the most serious crime charged comes from this category and accounts for 6.2 percent of all CHP involved pursuits. Since this data only includes the one specific crime identified to be the most serious crime charged, the actual number of times these violations were charged may be higher.

Part III: Five Year Trend Analysis

The following data reflects pursuit trends for the last five years (2014 to 2018).

Both statewide and CHP involved pursuits increased over the five-year period. For statewide agencies, pursuits increased from 6,842 pursuits in 2014, to 9,128 pursuits in 2018; an increase of 33.4 percent. Respectively, CHP involved pursuits increased from 2,056 in 2014 to 2,546 in 2018; an increase of 23.8 percent.

For statewide agencies, the number of pursuit collisions increased from 1,812 (26.5 percent of pursuits) to 2,243 (24.6 percent of pursuits). However, the percentage of pursuits that resulted in collisions decreased by 7.2 percent over the five-year period. The number of statewide agency pursuits resulting in property-damage only collisions increased from 1,188 property-damage only collisions (65.6 percent of collisions), to 1,466 property-damage only collisions (65.4 percent of collisions). Injury collisions increased from 598 injury collisions (33 percent of collisions), to 752 collisions (33.5 percent of collisions). Fatal collisions decreased from 26 fatal collisions in 2014 (1.4 percent of collisions), to 25 fatal collisions (1.1 percent of collisions).

CHP involved pursuit collisions decreased from 520 (25.3 percent of pursuits) in 2014, to 464 (18.2 percent of pursuits) in 2018. Additionally, the percentage of CHP involved pursuits that resulted in a collision decreased by 28.1 percent over the five-year period. CHP involved pursuits in 2014 resulted in 330 property-damage only collisions (63.5 percent of collisions) compared to 278 property-damage only collisions in 2018 (59.9 percent of collisions), a decrease over the five-year period. For injury collisions, 2014 and 2018 both had 178 injury collisions (34.2 percent of collisions in 2014 increased to 38.4 percent of collisions in 2018). Fatal collisions in CHP involved pursuits decreased from 12 (2.3 percent of collisions) in 2014, to 8 (1.7 percent of collisions) in 2018.

Conclusion

Statewide, millions of enforcement stops are conducted every year by hundreds of law enforcement agencies. Despite significant media coverage, only a small percentage of enforcement actions lead to a vehicle pursuit. There is no doubt pursuits are high-risk events for law enforcement officers, as well as the motoring public. As evident by the scarcity of injuries and fatalities to uninvolved third parties (330 injuries, 3.6 percent of all pursuits and 8 fatalities, .08 percent of all pursuits), law enforcement agencies overwhelmingly use sound, professional judgement when attempting to apprehend fleeing suspects. The vast majority of pursuits (75.4 percent) end without a collision or any injuries to the suspect or uninvolved third parties. Further, as evident by the number of serious crimes charged upon apprehension, pursuits often lead to the arrest of dangerous criminals.

While police pursuits have increased over the past five years, the utilization of law enforcement air support, direct supervision, and regular training, pursuits are increasingly being mitigated in the safest manner possible to apprehend the fleeing suspect while taking into account public and officer safety. This is supported by the decreasing percentage of pursuits that result in collisions over the five-year period from 2014 to 2018. Additionally, statewide fatal collisions have decreased from 0.38 percent of all pursuits in 2014 to 0.27 percent of all pursuits in 2018. The CHP and statewide agencies are continuing to research advanced technologies that would decrease collisions resulting from fleeing suspects in the future.

As California's population increases, and the number of motorists utilizing California's roadways increases, it is imperative for law enforcement agencies to continue providing adequate training to their officers, and maintain sound policies fortified in constant analysis of risk versus gain as a pursuit unfolds to increase public safety and better serve the community.

Senate Bill 719 – Police Pursuits

Senate Bill No. 719

CHAPTER 485

An act to amend Section 13955 of the Government Code, to amend Section 13519.8 of the Penal Code, and to amend Sections 2800.1, 2800.3, and 14602.1 of, to add Sections 1666.1 and 2911 to, and to amend, repeal, and add Section 17004.7 of, the Vehicle Code, relating to vehicles, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor October 4, 2005. Filed with Secretary of State October 4, 2005.]

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 719, Romero. Police pursuits.

(1) Existing law provides for compensation to crime victims, as specified, from the Restitution Fund, a continuously appropriated fund.

This bill would include as qualifying as a crime victim for those purposes, injury or death caused by any party where a peace officer is operating a motor vehicle in an effort to apprehend a suspect, and the suspect is evading, fleeing, or otherwise attempting to elude the peace officer.

By expanding the uses of a continuously appropriated fund, this bill would make an appropriation.

(2) Existing law requires the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training to implement a course or courses of instruction for the training of law enforcement officers in the handling of high-speed vehicle pursuits and to develop uniform, minimum guidelines for adoption by California law enforcement agencies for response to high-speed vehicle pursuits, as specified. Existing law expresses the intent of the Legislature that all local law enforcement agencies adopt those guidelines as a minimum for the agency's pursuit policy.

This bill, instead, would express the intent of the Legislature that each law enforcement agency adopt, promulgate, and require regular and periodic training consistent with an agency's specific pursuit policy that, at a minimum, complies with the commission's guidelines.

(3) Existing law specifies certain content for the California Driver's Handbook and examinations for a driver's license.

This bill would require the Department of Motor Vehicles, upon updating the handbook, to include at least one question in any of the noncommercial driver's license examinations of an applicant's knowledge and understanding to verify that the applicant has an understanding of the risks and punishments associated with eluding a pursuing peace officer's motor vehicle.

(4) Existing law makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding 6 months, for any person while operating a motor vehicle to intentionally evade and willfully flee or otherwise attempt to elude a pursuing peace officer's motor vehicle or bicycle under certain conditions.

This bill would make that offense a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year. By increasing the punishment for a crime, this bill would impose a state-mandated local program.

(5) Existing law makes it a misdemeanor punishable by confinement in a county jail for not more than one year or a felony punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for 3, 4, or 5 years or a specified fine for any person who commits the offense described in (4) above and proximately causes serious bodily injury, as defined, or death to any person.

This bill would increase the term of imprisonment in the state prison as follows:

(a) A term of 3, 5, or 7 years or the specified fine, or both the fine and imprisonment where the offense involves serious bodily injury.

(b) A term of 4, 6, or 10 years in the state prison where the offense involves a death.

(6) Existing law establishes the California Traffic Safety Program, to include state and local programs, as specified.

This bill would require all traffic safety programs that receive state funds and that include public awareness campaigns involving emergency vehicle operations to include in the public awareness campaign, information on the risks to public safety of peace officer motor vehicle pursuits, and the penalties that may result from evading a peace officer.

(7) Existing law requires each state and local law enforcement agency to report to the Department of the California Highway Patrol, on a form approved by the department, certain specific vehicle pursuit data, including, but not limited to, certain required data.

This bill instead would require the department to develop and approve a paper or electronic form that includes additional data, and would require that the report be made to the department no later than 30 days following a police pursuit, thereby imposing a state-mandated local program by increasing the level of services imposed on local law enforcement agencies.

The bill would additionally require the Department of the California Highway Patrol to submit annually to the Legislature a report regarding motor vehicle pursuits.

(8) Existing law provides that any public agency employing peace officers that adopts a written policy on vehicular pursuits that meets certain minimum standards, as specified, shall be immune from liability for civil damages for personal injury to or death of any person or damage to property resulting from the collision of a vehicle being operated by an actual or suspected violator of the law who is being has been, or believes he or she is being or has been pursued by a peace officer employed by the public entity in a motor vehicle. Existing law makes the adoption of a vehicle pursuit policy pursuant to these provisions discretionary.

This bill would revise the minimum standards required for a written policy for the safe conduct of motor vehicle pursuits. These provisions would become operative on July 1, 2007.

(9) This bill also would incorporate additional changes in Section 13955 of the Government Code, to become operative only if AB 22 and this bill are both enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 2006, and this bill is enacted last.

(10) The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement.

This bill would provide that with regard to certain mandates no reimbursement is required by this act for a specified reason.

With regard to any other mandates, this bill would provide that, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that the bill contains costs so mandated by the state, reimbursement for those costs shall be made pursuant to the statutory provisions noted above.

Appropriation: yes.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) Thousands of crime suspects flee each year often resulting in law enforcement officers in California engaging in motor vehicle pursuits. Many pursuits result in accidents, property damage, serious injuries, and death to innocent third parties, peace officers, and fleeing suspects.

(b) Motor vehicle pursuits of fleeing suspects present inescapable and inherent risks that sometimes offend public sensibilities.

(c) According to statistics from the National Highway Safety Administration, California has consistently led the nation in the past 20 years in fatalities from crashes involving these pursuits.

(d) California leads the nation in the number of innocent bystanders killed in these pursuits. A study by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration indicates that in 2003 there were 46 deaths in California that resulted from high speed police pursuits of fleeing suspects. Twelve of the 46 deaths were innocent bystanders. Eighteen were passengers in the pursued vehicle, 15 were fleeing suspects, and one was a peace officer.

(e) Pursuit driving is a dangerous activity that must be undertaken with due care and with the understanding of specific risks as well as the need for a realistic proportionate response to apprehend a fleeing suspect who poses a danger to the public.

(f) Current law provides that a person operating a motor vehicle who is negligent in its operation may be liable for civil damages pursuant to Section 17150 of the Vehicle Code.

(g) The primary function of all law enforcement agencies is to protect the public against personal injury, death, or property damage.

(h) It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature to enact legislation that guides instances where law enforcement pursuits are warranted so as to protect the public safety, lives, and property of the people of the State of California.

(i) It is also the intent of the Legislature to decrease peace officer motor vehicle pursuits through public education, enforcement, and regular and periodic training of peace officers.

(j) It is also the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to eliminate any unnecessary risks that evolve from peace officer motor vehicle pursuits, and to ensure that law enforcement pursuits are conducted in the safest and most effective approach throughout California.

The guidelines and course of instruction shall stress the

These guidelines shall be a resource for each agency executive to use in the creation of a specific pursuit policy that the agency is encouraged to adopt and promulgate, and that reflects the needs of the agency, the jurisdiction it serves, and the law.

(e) This section shall become inoperative on July 1, 2007, and, as of January 1, 2008, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute that is enacted before January 1, 2008, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 17004.7 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read:

17004.7. (a) The immunity provided by this section is in addition to any other immunity provided by law. The adoption of a vehicle pursuit policy by a public agency pursuant to this section is discretionary.

(b) (1) A public agency employing peace officers that adopts and promulgates a written policy on, and provides regular and periodic training on an annual basis for, vehicular pursuits complying with subdivisions (c) and (d) is immune from liability for civil damages for personal injury to or death of any person or damage to property resulting from the collision of a vehicle being operated by an actual or suspected violator of the law who is being, has been, or believes he or she is being or has been, pursued in a motor vehicle by a peace officer employed by the public entity.

(2) Promulgation of the written policy under paragraph (1) shall include, but is not limited to, a requirement that all peace officers of the public agency certify in writing that they have received, read, and understand the policy. The failure of an individual officer to sign a certification shall not be used to impose liability on an individual officer or a public entity.

(c) A policy for the safe conduct of motor vehicle pursuits by peace officers shall meet all of the following minimum standards:

(1) Determine under what circumstances to initiate a pursuit. The policy shall define a “pursuit,” articulate the reasons for which a pursuit is authorized, and identify the issues that should be considered in reaching the decision to pursue. It should also address the importance of protecting the public and balancing the known or reasonably suspected offense, and the apparent need for immediate capture against the risks to peace officers, innocent motorists, and others to protect the public.

(2) Determine the total number of law enforcement vehicles authorized to participate in a pursuit. Establish the authorized number of law enforcement units and supervisors who may be involved in a pursuit, describe the responsibility of each authorized unit and the role of each peace officer and supervisor, and specify if and when additional units are authorized.

(5) Determine driving tactics and the circumstances under which the tactics may be appropriate.

(6) Determine authorized pursuit intervention tactics. Pursuit intervention tactics include, but are not limited to, blocking, ramming, boxing, and roadblock procedures. The policy shall specify under what circumstances and conditions each approved tactic is authorized to be used.

(7) Determine the factors to be considered by a peace officer and supervisor in determining speeds throughout a pursuit. Evaluation shall take into consideration public safety, peace officer safety, and safety of the occupants in a fleeing vehicle.

(8) Determine the role of air support, where available. Air support shall include coordinating the activities of resources on the ground, reporting on the progress of a pursuit, and providing peace officers and supervisors with information to evaluate whether or not to continue the pursuit.

(9) Determine when to terminate or discontinue a pursuit. Factors to be considered include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Ongoing evaluation of risk to the public or pursuing peace officer.

(B) The protection of the public, given the known or reasonably suspected offense and apparent need for immediate capture against the risks to the public and peace officers.

(11) Determine effective coordination, management, and control of interjurisdictional pursuits. The policy shall include, but shall not be limited to, all of the following:

(A) Supervisory control and management of a pursuit that enters another jurisdiction.

(B) Communications and notifications among the agencies involved.

(C) Involvement in another jurisdiction's pursuit.

(D) Roles and responsibilities of units and coordination, management, and control at the termination of an interjurisdictional pursuit.

(12) Reporting and postpursuit analysis as required by Section 14602.1. Establish the level and procedures of postpursuit analysis, review, and feedback. Establish procedures for written postpursuit review and followup.

(d) “Regular and periodic training” under this section means annual training that shall include, at a minimum, coverage of each of the subjects and elements set forth in subdivision (c) and that shall comply, at a minimum, with the training guidelines established pursuant to Section 13519.8 of the Penal Code.

(e) The requirements of subdivision (c) represent minimum policy standards and do not limit an agency from adopting additional policy requirements. The requirements in subdivision (c) are consistent with the 1995 California Law Enforcement Vehicle Pursuit Guidelines developed by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training pursuant to Section 13519.8 of the Penal Code that will assist agencies in the development of their pursuit policies. Nothing in this section precludes the adoption of a policy that limits or restricts pursuits.

(f) A determination of whether a public agency has complied with subdivisions (c) and (d) is a question of law for the court.

(g) This section shall become operative on July 1, 2007.

SEC. 12. Section 3 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 13955 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and AB 22. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on or before January 1, 2006, (2) each bill amends Section 13955 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 22, in which case Section 2 of this bill shall not become operative.
