VEHICLE THEFT TRENDS

- The 1991 Honda Accord ranks as the number one stolen vehicle statewide and the 1994 Honda Accord and 1992 Honda Accord are ranked at numbers two and three, respectively. With high resale value, there is an abundance of Hondas on the road and consumer demand is high. Additionally, their parts are interchangeable with similar models from year-to-year and the ignition systems can be easily defeated.
- Consistently since 1984, Toyota Pickups have ranked as the number one most frequently stolen pickup truck. Its popularity is due to its resale value, abundance, interchangeable parts, and easily defeated ignition systems. It should be noted that with increasingly more technical alarm systems being utilized by Toyota, vehicles with model years of 1990 and later are less often included in the Top 40 list of vehicles stolen.

- Freightliner commercial trucks with model years 2000, 1999, and 2001 are ranked as the three most frequently stolen vehicles in their category. John Deere farm equipment ranked as the number one stolen vehicle in its category. These vehicles and equipment are popular targets because of their high resale value, popularity, and availability.

VEHICLE RECOVERIES

- Of the 158,883 vehicles stolen statewide in 2010, 88.6 percent were successfully recovered, representing 140,758 recovered vehicles.
- Of the vehicles stolen statewide, 94.3 percent of the automobiles, 39.7 percent of the motorcycles, 89.2 percent of the personal trucks and vans, and 84.7 percent of the commercial trucks were recovered.
- Of the vehicles recovered statewide, 59.7 percent were recovered intact and in drivable condition; 5 percent were missing major components; 14.6 percent were stripped of minor parts; and the remaining 20.7 percent were intentionally burned and/or wrecked.
- Although the total number of cargo thefts, by way of comparison to overall vehicle thefts in California is low, it is considered an ongoing problem. It is estimated this costs Californians hundreds of millions of dollars annually.
