FOREWORD

The purpose of this manual is to provide direction regarding the Field Training and Evaluation Program for new officers. The program was designed to introduce new officers to the realities and responsibilities of road patrol and produce officers capable of providing service to the public under both routine and emergency conditions. The program is guided by a job-related standardized training curriculum and utilizes fair and objective techniques to evaluate and document each trainee's progress.

All inquiries and questions regarding the Field Training and Evaluation Program should be directed to the statewide Field Training and Evaluation Program coordinator.
